Collection of Good Practices

For this intellectual output (IO) 5 partners (excluding our German partner Iberika) collected 60 good practices in English. Each country collected 12 of them. For the second step we translated all these 60 good practices into our languages. Finally each country formed their own good practices for their countries.

These good practices includes useful tips for all turist guides from new comers to experts. We strongly recommend you to read them. If you also have good practices, please share them with us via facebook or twitter.

What are we doing by now?

The m-learning content delivery space for target group.

The m-learning content delivery space for target group has been developed from scratch. This output is a mobile - enabled learning environment for people from the target groups. It delivers language courses tailored to the needs of TOURIST GUIDES, allowing them to develop their vocational skills in terms of foreign languages.

The platform consists of 2 language courses, for each course there were 10 thematic modules prepared, including " Welcoming foreign tourists," "Tour and Activity Plan" , "Story about the city" and the others. Modules include training content and interactive exercises. In addition, upon registration, users can track their progress in the course. In the case of German course, instructions for each of the exercises have been translated into 7 languages. In order to support that, the core content (the training material) is accompanied by instructions and information in the native language of a person visiting the platform.

The advantages of m-learning content delivery space:

- No limitations in terms of time and place. Consequently, saving valuable time. Mobile learning is learning anytime and anywhere. M-learning is freedom, which is probably the biggest of its advantages.

-In relation to e-learning, it seems to be more effective because it is not "loaded" so much with large portions of information or media. By learning on mobile devices, the user assimilates small "pills" of knowledge, which, moreover, has its justification (learning while traveling or during breaks between work);

- m-learning content delivery space is a perfect solution for those tourists guides who want to perpetuate or repeat the knowledge and also have unrestricted access to information.

What are we going to do?

Testing the m-learning language course

Now that the ten modules of the language course have been developed, it will soon be time to test the course in its entirety.

A project testing plan has been published and the free course will soon be offered to a total of 100 tour guides and associates for testing (20 per partner country). A tester's questionnaire will be issued to accompany the course, which will give valuable feedback on the course content, structure, ease of use and technical evaluation.

Using the results of the questionnaire the final version of the course can be adapted to give future users maximum benefit.

If you would like to volunteer to test the GOLIC GUIDE m-learning language course, totally free of charge, please contact us as soon as possible and we will be glad to send you the details.
